THE YOUNGEST CITIZENS

We much regret that owing to pressure of space, The Youngest Citizens' Column has this week been crowded out.

SUMMARY OF EVENTS
OF THE PAST WEEK

CANADIAN

At the beginning of the week the price of wheat was 61 1/2. Premiers Oliver and Greenfield of British Columbia and Alberta have been in Ottawa conferring with the Dominion Government and the railway authorities on the question of the northern route. Unless there is a settlement to the Pacific from the Peace River country. No result has as yet been announced and the prospect of any immediate development seems rather slight.

For the month of March the number of immigrants into Canada was over 6000, and there is every indication of a steady stream of new settlers throughout the summer.

The interest in it is again rising rapidly in Alberta. At Wainwright more wells are being drilled. South of Calgary the Royalties is now estimated to be producing about 700 barrels a day. An oil shale which is to be opened in Calgary, and it looks as if something like a boom is about to take place. Unless there is much more behind the boom and much greater care taken in regard to conservation of the oil, the indications are that oil does exist in Alberta.

The vote on the budget in the Dominion House of Commons was at last taken at the end of last week, at a result in an unexpectedly large majority for the Liberal Government. The figures were: For the Government, 125; against, 87; majority, 37. The Progressive vote was completely split. If voting for the Government and 23 against. On the other hand the Conservative amendment to the Budget was hopelessly beaten by a combined vote of Liberals and Progressives. During the final stage of the debate the Premier, Mr. Mackenzie King, threatened to advise the dissolution of the House of Commons if the Opposition. Opinion was divided as to whether the result of the budget vote will make a general election more likely this year or less so.

In Vancouver the Chinaman Wong Sing, who has been missing for some months, since the murder of the Scottish girl Janet Smith was found and arrested on the outskirts of Vancouver and has been charged with the murder. This case has created a great sensation in Vancouver and its development will be very closely watched. Janet Smith was a girl in the service of a Mr. and Mrs. Baker in Vancouver and was found dead in the basement of the house with a revolver beside her under circumstances which make suicide unlikely. At the institution largely of the British Columbia Government appointed special counsel to investigate the case and to report on the Government gives them permission to sell her.

The vote on the budget has led to an open breach in the Progressive Party, its leader Mr. Forke holding strongly that the party must act together or cease to exist while individual members claim the right of free decision as to their votes.

A debate on the Hudson Bay railway in Parliament at Ottawa showed strong support for the completion of the line and some money in the budget was set aside for the purpose. It is certain that by the end of this year the keeping what has been done in good stead.

BRITISH AND IMPERIAL

The British budget was introduced by Mr. Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer. He announced the return of Great Britain to the gold standard. The main features of the budget in addition to this return are: 1. In the pound taken off the income tax, which now stands at 4 shillings in the pound, or 20 per cent, imperial preference on imports and exports introduced on sugar, dried fruit and sparkling wines, the McKenna war-time duties on imported luxuries such as cars and cars removed; a tax on imported silk and artificial. The death duties are increased, a grant of compulsory contributory insurance is introduced which will provide pensions for widows and orphans. For the past year the British revenue shows a surplus of £228,000,000. The total revenue estimated for is about £280,000,000, as compared with £280,000,000 before the war. Strong Labour opposition to the Budget has been shown and some Liberal opposition mainly on the ground of the trade preferences.

The pound sterling rose on the budget announcement to $4.84, almost to par. In our last issue, by a misprint the pound was given as $4.71 instead of $4.84, the correct figure.

Lord Balfour has entered the British Cabinet as Lord President of the Council in place of Lord Curzon deposed.

Because of hints of communist plots to assassinate him, strong guards have been placed around the body of Mr. Austen Chamberlain, the British Foreign Minister.

The Prince of Wales received a most enthusiastic welcome at Cape Town on his arrival there.

The British pound reached $4.84 within 10 of par.

Sir W. Johnson Hicks, British Home Secretary, speaking in the House of Commons, asserted that there was no doubt a widespread communist movement in Western Europe, and the constitution of the League of Nations is being attacked.

FOREIGN

The election of Marshal Hindenburg to the Presidency of Germany has as yet caused no disturbance there, and had only a temporarily depressing effect on world markets.

The negotiations for an agreement between France and Germany are proceeding and the German question of German disarmament is being allowed to sleep. The crucial test of these negotiations is whether it is possible to trust the peaceful professions of Germany. She expresses her willingness to comply with the treaty of Versailles by a fresh agreement so far as her frontier with France is concerned, but she is not willing to regard to the frontier with Poland.

The French position is that Germany is to be neutralized France in order to obtain a treaty with Poland from Poland some of her lost territory. Having done so and this broken treaty, the German trains are in the hands of Poland railways, and a cry has been raised in Germany that it is only a matter of time before the future peace negotiations. The negotiations are likely to be long and the Polish position is a difficult one for all the nations concerned.

An express train from Germany to Poland was wrecked by a Communist plotter when crossing what is known as "The Polish Corridor." The train was carrying a large number of Polish soldiers, and the accident has caused the German Government to take steps to prevent a recurrence of the accident. Forty were killed and about fifty injured. This may give rise to a new war, and the negotiations between the Government forces and the Communist forces have been suspended.

The fishing season does not open until 15th May, but some boys have been seen catching fish at the mouth of the creek, which makes them liable to get into trouble.

The Executive of the W.C.T.U. wish to give publicity to the work done by the organization. The work done by the organization is to be made known to the public.

On Saturday evening W. H. Cunningham, of the Farmers' Meat Market, lost the tops of the first two fingers of his right hand while working in his store. The machine choker and the accident took place in getting it restarted.

Mr. A. T. Stephenson has heard from Mr. Reid, of the Fishery Department, that a salmon will be put into Sylvan Lake, 3000 ft. into Pine Lake, and 2000 ft. into the lake, and the stream to the west of Reid.

Miss L. Nichols is taking the place of Miss Jean Neilson in the telephone office in town. Miss Neilson, we understand, is about to be married, and will be leaving the office.

The Communist ferment in Europe seems generally to be subsiding in the case of the French. In both France and Germany trouble was expected on Saturday, 1st May, but this did not take place, and the day passed quite peacefully.

Serious news comes from Morocco. The Almoravids, a Moorish tribe, have invaded the French zone. This will mean that the French will have to break their power once and for all. Looking to the uninterrupted success of France in the last few years, there seems to be little doubt that she can and will do so.

The Moors have evidently got it into their heads that because they have been so successful in the past, they can do so again. They have been so successful in the past, they can do so again. They have been so successful in the past, they can do so again.

A debate on the Hudson Bay railway in Parliament at Ottawa showed strong support for the completion of the line and some money in the budget was set aside for the purpose. It is certain that by the end of this year the keeping what has been done in good stead.

The following argument is creditably reported as having occurred between a young couple on their way to the Presbyterian Church on Sunday:

Man: "I'm in the Orange Lodge and the Oddfellows Lodge the same society?"

Woman: "No."

Man: "Well, aren't the Rebekahs ladies of the Orange Lodge?"

Woman: "No, sir, don't you know any better than that? Why, they are the ladies of the Orange Lodge."

Man: "Well, what are the ladies of the Orange Lodge called?"

Woman: "The 'Orangeade'."

Charlie Payne, of the News staff, was a clerk of W. J. Stephenson last week. Mr. Stephenson, having seen a photograph of Charlie in the paper, offered him a clerkship. Charlie, however, was not interested, and he was not interested in the offer.

Walter Miller was down from Milnet for the week-end. He drove back to Edmonton in his car on Sunday afternoon, and he was in the city for hours in spite of two hats on the way. The roads are in excellent condition except for one short bit near Millet.

BOXING

On Thursday evening, 14th May, there will be a boxing entertainment at the Rex Theatre. The main bout will be between Bladen Whitehead, of Penhold, and Steve Solides, of Calgary. There will be three five-round bouts between Whitehead, of Penhold, and Steve Solides, of Calgary, and a three-round bout between Charlie Flynn, of Willowdale, and George Staples, of Ridgewood.

The match between the married and single men, last Wednesday, ended in a victory for the married men by 1-0. It was not a good game owing to the strong wind which made it very difficult to keep the ball in play.

A fair number turned out to practice on Monday night, and tonight there will be a return game between the married and single men. These local matches are really the best form of practice for the more serious games against outside teams.

The School Trustees' Golf team to play the School on Friday afternoon at 3 p.m. will be J. Berry, A. T. Galt, J. H. Galt, E. W. Payne, C. F. Carvill, R. C. Lister, J. Welsh, D. Locke, P. B. Kent, T. ## OF GARDENS AND THEIR KEEPERS

This is the time of year when the gardeners become anxiously busy. Red Deer has always made a notable feature of its gardens, and a very excellent thing it is, too. In one way a garden is simply a means of saving money by growing one's own vegetables. The gardener who confines himself to this only is, however, a somewhat sordid and materially minded individual. When he comes to survey the ripened product of his labours all that he can feel is an anticipatory thrill in his gastric regions, a glowing, as it were, over organs to come, unless indeed he be one of those generous souls who values material possessions merely for the pleasure of giving them away. This however is rare. The true gardener may indeed invite his friends to share his feast, but it is at heart done for the joy of compelling them to bear witness to his skill and to the wholly unique flavours of his potatoes, early peas and carrots. There is little of aesthetic and artistic grandeur about the vegetable gardener. His soul is like his roots—of the earth, earthy. The true gardener is he whose garden embodies all the attributes of life in justly blended proportions. There will be the vegetables in the background, things necessary and useful but not to be unduly obtruded on the attention of the world at large. Then there will be fruit trees, perhaps, in the middle distance. These partake of both characteristics in that they are pleasantly edible or even, in fullness of time, drinkable, and also by their blossom in Spring and their ready colours in Autumn they please the eye and add brightness to the green of the foliage. The foreground will be reserved for the true glory of the garden—the flowers. Not until he has produced an abundance of brilliantly coloured blooms can anyone claim with justice the title of a true gardener. The pleasure to be derived from a flower garden is on an entirely higher scale than that got from the uninspiring vegetables. The marvel of colour, of shades and blendings, of perfumes and fragrances—this it is which justifies the gardener in regarding himself as one of the world's really creative artists. To want in a beautiful flower garden is to feel the inspiration of higher things, to hear in fancy, as it were, haunting and beautiful music, to recall old romances, and dream old dreams. The last rose of Summer may be the foundation of the tenderest and most appealing of songs. Cabbages and carrots can never be the inspiration of anything better than a red-nosed and bibulous comedian. Moreover, while a potato can at best give only a passing and partial satisfaction to one individual, a flower may be a source of joy to numbers who see its beauty and pass by.

If these considerations are duly noted by our gardeners, we may see Red Deer as the season advances blaze out into a riot of colourful beauty to the uplifting of its citizens' hearts.

HOW LONG CAN IT GO ON?

The loss on the Canadian National Railway system for last year was $63,000,000. There does not appear to be any great likelihood of that loss being changed into a profit in anything like the near future. What is to be done about it?

There is no reason for attributing any fault to Sir Henry Thornton, the manager of the C.N.R. All the indications are that he is doing excellent work. He has brought something like a new spirit into the working of the C.N.R., and he is steadily working towards the all round improvement of the system. If he is left alone and given a free hand in the management of the railway, subject always to general supervision by the Government of the day, just as the Canadian Pacific officials are left alone to manage the general supervision of the directors and shareholders, then there is no reason to doubt that in due course he will have the system in excellent working order.

Will that, however, help matters greatly? Can the system, however well managed, be a paying concern with its present capitalization and the traffic that it is likely to deal with in the next generation or so? If not, the C.N.R. will have to continue paying $63,000,000 each year indefinitely. There are undoubted advantages about having two great systems of railways existing side by side, one privately owned and one publicly owned. There is almost always likely to be a certain amount of controversy between the theoretical supporters of public ownership and private ownership of such great public utilities as railways, and the two systems side by side give some data for practical comparison on the subject. By means of the C.N.R., the people of Canada should at least in theory be able to check exploitation and over charging if the C.P.R. should ever think of indulging in such methods. Yet $63,000,000 a year is an expensive price to pay for getting data on controversial subjects or even keeping a check on the C.P.R. rates.

Does it not come down to this, that unless some really reliable assurance can be given to the people of Canada that the deficit will be speedily reduced, there are two alternatives, and only two, open. The first is to try to sell the C.N.R. to private owners. The second is to reduce the permanent carrying charges by some great financial reconstruction policy.

The sale of the C.N.R. to private owners would be something like a blow to the public pride of the people of Canada. On the other hand any financial reconstruction policy would have to be most carefully framed. Canada has already damaged her credit badly in Great Britain by her treatment of the shareholders of the old Grand Trunk Company. Anything like confiscation or repudiation must be speedily avoided.

to the gold standard, marks the practical return of the pound sterling to par value. It is a remarkable performance. In the days following the war when enormous debts, crushing taxation, and the collapse of the trade boom weighed on Great Britain like an overwhelming burden, the value of the British pound, as compared with the American dollar, sank from its par value of $4.86 to within a measurable distance of $3.50. German, Italian, French money had sunk in value to a mere fraction of their pre-war standards. In the case of Germany, as all remember, the occupation of the Ruhr later on extinguished the value of the mark altogether. Those who did not realize the solid business strength of British finance and business character were inclined to ask whether the pound could ever fully recover, whether Great Britain could carry the tremendous burden without making some sort of compromise with her creditors, foreign and domestic. The answer has been and is being given in the most unequivocal fashion. The first indication of Britain's determination at all costs to pay her debts was the settlement of the American debt. There were and are serious doubts about the moral justice of this debt. It was incurred by Great Britain not for her own but for the Allies' benefit. The United States' contribution to the war victory in men and ships had been considerably less than those of the rest of the Allies. She had made enormous profits out of her war production. It was and is arguable that not merely generously but common justice should have led the United States to cancel at least a portion of the debt and share the loss in a common cause with Great Britain. The United States did not make this offer and Britain did not ask for it. Instead she made a settlement which involved a long and heavy burden on her citizens in respect of taxation, but which instantly showed to the world that the word of Great Britain was as dependable as ever, that her financial honour would remain untarnished.

From that moment there has been no doubt as to the ultimate recovery of the pound. Slowly and with some slight setbacks it has climbed in value until now has reached within a few cents of par.

What does this mean? It means that the world generally believes that British credit is good, that British debts, private and public, will be paid, that British business at home and abroad stands firm against the assaults of its enemies. The German mark collapsed because it was made clear to the world that Germany could or would not pay her creditors and that her government was without strength to control the situation. The French franc has fallen for reasons not much different and the Italian lira is in the same position.

British taxation is tremendously high. The income tax, in spite of the fact which Mr. Churchill in his new budget is proposing to take off, remains at 42 shillings in the pound, an equivalent of 20% as compared with Canada's 4%. British expenditure on defence continues and must continue to be very heavy. Yet the burden is being faced without a hint of wavering. While we in Canada are wallowing about our 4% income tax and declaring that because of it and other burdens we must continue to sponge on the Old Country and the United States for our defence, Great Britain is paying her debts and bearing her burdens with aid from none. It is an impressive illustration of the fact that honesty is the best policy, and that the man who stands up to his debts and pays them without whining or wringing wins the respect of his fellowmen and places his credit with them on an unassailable basis.

THE I.O.D.E. AND LOYALTY

These are days of destructive criticism and aggressive self-assertion. Youth is ever apt to be impatient of old ways and old restraints, ready to clamour for independence and the right to go its own way. Canada is a young nation newly grown to manhood, and all the signs of youth are present—the vigour and hopefulness on the one hand, the crude self-confidence and rashness of judgment on the other. It is well that there should be voices raised among us to remind us of the loyalties of older days, to correct our inclination to believe that we can stand alone and indifferent to our kindred elsewhere.

The Independent Order of the Daughters of the Empire exists to foster amongst us the spirit of loyalty to King and Empire, the realization that inasmuch as we bear a great name, so we carry high responsibilities. Amongst the baser sort in our country are occasionally heard contemptuous references to monarchy as an outworn institution and to the Empire as a thing for semi-slaves. The Order of the Daughters of the Empire strives amongst other things to show the folly of such an attitude, to remind us that there is a glory in loyalty as great as in glory to freedom, and that the Empire, as we know it, is no thing for slaves but a splendid union of free men and women whose ideals are those of freedom and justice throughout our own dominions and the whole wide world. That is a fine purpose, and if it is pursued with sincerity and kept clear of mere vague sentimentalism or cant, the Order of the Daughters of the Empire will hold a high place amongst us and will keep the entire good will of the best of our people.

PUBLIC SCHOOL BOARD

The monthly meeting of the School Board was held in the Board room on Monday night. The members of the Board were present with the exception of Trustee Stenhouse, who was absent from the city on Masonic work. There was not a great deal of business transacted.

Miss Ada Smith and Miss Bryson, of the staff, applied for permission to close their rooms on Friday, June 9, instead of on the following Tuesday the 30th. They are going East to visit their homes and want as long a time as possible. Their requests were granted.

The Board agreed to purchase two or three special books required by Miss Robinson's class.

The motion passed at the previous month's meeting with regard to deductions from the salaries of teachers who missed the convention was amended. It appears likely that the full number of teaching days will be got in this term, and in such case the Board would not lose any part of the grant. Under the amended motion, a deduction will only be made if, and to the extent of the Board's loss.

Dr. P. L. Backus reported on his inspection of the pupils of North Red school. He recommended some action, but the Board did not feel that they could do anything with no claim which their suggestion or order could be carried out.

Trustee Carwell reported that no applications for the use of the school grounds for evening sport had been received by the committee other than the suggestion of the Football Club who asked for Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights. They were granted the nights and the committee and Trustees Stephenson and Carwell authorized to make arrangements with the club.

The Board evinced great enthusiasm over the approaching football game with the Public School team. The press were forbidden to publish any details of the strategic plans for the downfall of the school.

Jas. Shannon, caretaker, was granted a further leave of absence until May 31st.

Several applications for positions on the staff were filed until a vacancy occurs.

The Board adjourned at 10 p.m.

CONDOR NEWS

The Condor Dramatic Society on Friday night, about 11:30 p.m., breathed a great big sigh of relief. They had undertaken to put on a very clever comedy, "King of the Wild Out," and after much hard work, many hand-caps and not one rehearsal with every character on hand, they succeeded in putting it over in great style. The leading parts were taken by Scott Hastie, Orlan Stenhouse, Bert Avery, Don Frost, Jim Stenhouse, Mr. N. Eastman and Mrs. Porter, who all did well. The minor parts were taken by Miss Jackson, Miss Vengard, H. Moore, Guy Mills and W. Fendergrat, who all filled their parts with credit. Mrs. Scott Hastie was stage manager, scene producer, prompter, in fact the success of the play was really due to that lady. She filled the part of the missing character at rehearsal; she encouraged the others to stick to it; she would plead with them, scold them, feed them, and finally got them through with glowing colors. The hall was packed with a most appreciative crowd and the Women's Institute benefited to the tune of $68.50.

Mrs. Frost, who came up from Takima Valley, Wash., to visit her daughter, Mrs. Enos Hunsman, has returned home, taking her three little grandchildren with her. Mrs. Hunsman is still confined to the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. John Simpson paid a Condor short visit from Friday to Monday before leaving Alberta for Spokane.

Mrs. Frank Barton has returned.

PENHOLD NOTES

Mrs. J. Spillard, of Calgary, visited Mrs. Ford on Monday prior to leaving for California.

Mr. W. V. Hoyle installed a radio for Bert Smith, of Willowdale, last week.

There will be a meeting of baseball fans in the U.S.G. office on Wednesday evening to re-organize the senior team.

Mr. A. W. Ford is home from the lumber camp for a few days.

P. F. Purdum has the contract for a house at Sylvan Lake, and a house for Mr. Baile, insurance agent. Red Deer is also building A. F. Omond's house.

The Woodland Dairy has installed a new cold water tank, and patrons may now bring their cream in the evenings if they wish.

Letthead Brothers are unloading a large new tractor.

There was a big shipment of cattle from the Edwell district on Tuesday.

The proprietors of the Cafe have opened up a luncheon connection with their other business.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore have left for Bowden. Mr. Gilmore has purchased a car and will be at the elevator once or twice a week for two or three months.

Complying with the regulations of the Public Health Department, the Village Council of Penhold orders all garbage and refuse within the village limits to be cleaned up by May 30th, W. V. Hoyle, secretary.

The members of the local I.O.O.F. Lodge paraded to the Anglican church on Sunday, where Rev. Mr. Orton preached a most appropriate sermon.

Mrs. A. R. Brown is suffering from an attack of influenza.

Seeding is well under way, most of the wheat being in.

ALHAMBRA NEWS

Mr. Sam Emerson paid a visit to Red Deer last week, leaving his business here in charge of his two capable assistants.

Basketball will be the pastime of the young ladies of the village and district. We understand they hold a meeting to discuss the subject.

The school children are busy planting their garden seeds, all feeling very ambitious at the present time. We hear they caused a certain amount of quarrelling in one family, some being split on the ground. It is rather hard to find most garden seed under such conditions, hence the trouble.

A most unusual happening took place the other day. On the arrival of the train, not a soul alighted save the train crew.

The Bible Students are holding a service at Alhambra on Thursday night.

There has been much wind, drying out the land fast, but up to the present there is a fair amount of moisture a few inches down. A good rain would do no harm, as the grass is rather slow coming.

Seeding is in full swing, the majority of people having the larger half of their land sown.

On reading an article on collapsible gates, it made us think of the many in our district being not only collapsible, but also nearly impossible to close, unless well acquainted with the mechanism. A few of the right type might be easier to open and close.

'Wanderer of the Wasteland'

A story read by millions of people, produced by the man who made "The Heritage of the Desert," and, above, all, the first modern all-color picture.

The "gold days" of California and Arizona always furnish interesting drama. The desert holds the secret story of countless human dramas, but Zane Grey wrote a masterpiece when he wrote "Wanderer of the Wasteland."

In black and white this adventure romance would be the greatest of Westerns. In natural colors, it's the greatest of all pictures.

HAYNES HAPPENINGS

Miss Claxton and Will have been enjoying a visit from their sister of the Hudson Bay staff in Winnipeg. Allen W. Irish, of the C.P.R., Calgary, and his bride, spent a couple of days at home last week. Joe Best's oldest little girl, Marion, fell off her horse on her way to school a week ago and broke her arm. The little girl was taken into Red Deer and fixed up by help of the X-ray, and is doing fine.

Mrs. Millo Baker hurt her ankle in jumping off a load the other day, but we hope not seriously.

Our new station agent, Mr. Phillips, with wife and two little girls have arrived to take over the work here, and our relief agent passed on last Saturday. Haynes is a pretty good place to live, after all.

JOFFRE ITEMS

The Grain Growers were looking over the ground with the view of putting in another elevator.

R. H. Jiska and family are all down with the flu.

We are glad to hear Mrs. Lindsay is improving. There is a trained nurse in attendance and Dr. Sanders was out from Red Deer.

Threshing is nearly over in the district and lots of grain is moving into the elevator.

Mr. England, our new storekeeper, reports business progressing very favorably. Seeding is well under way and conditions favorable for a good crop this year.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Whitman, of Saintwood, a daughter.

Music has been secured for the dance on May 25th in Blades' Hall. The Delburne orchestra will play.

Mr. and Mrs. W. England returned to their home in Calgary on Tuesday.

A Sore Affliction

A young woman in Hamilton has just lost her husband. It was a sore affliction and the minister called to console with her. He found her in the kitchen eating a bowl of porridge. "Ah, Jane," said the good man, "I have met a sore affliction, indeed. It is too bad, too bad!"

"Aye, that it is, sir," was the reply, "and I grieved (weep) over it at the night. I just stopped 'lang enough to eat my breakfast, and as soon as I've finished this bowl of porridge I'm going to begin again."

LESLIEVILLE

A most enjoyable time was experienced at a miscellaneous shower, given on Saturday night, in honor of Miss Florence Evans. A large crowd was present, and many beautiful and useful gifts were received. The evening was spent in playing games and dancing, after which lunch was served. The Hespero Trio supplied the splendid music.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. Ray Evans, on Wednesday, April 29th, at 5 p.m., when Miss Florence Fern Evans and Mr. Jack McFadyen were united in marriage by Rev. W. G. McKee. The bride was charmingly attired in a brown satin crepe dress. The room was beautifully decorated, and the bride and groom stood under an arch of apple blossoms. Miss Elinore Hake was the bridesmaid, and Mr. Ray Evans, brother of the bride, was the best man.

After the ceremony a very dainty luncheon was served. Later, the happy couple left for their new home east of Leslieville.

We all extend hearty congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. McFadyen.

A pretty wedding was solemnized on Tuesday afternoon at the Methodist Church in Red Deer, when the Rev. J. Wesley Churchill united in holy matrimony Miss Marion McBeth and Mr. Russell Hake, of Leslieville. Both parties have lived in this community for a number of years, and have a host of friends who will wish them a long and happy wedded life.

They left on the afternoon train for Edmonton for a short honeymoon, and will be home on May 10th. A dainty lunch will be served by the bride's mother, Mrs. Margaret McBeth, to a few relatives and friends on Friday evening.

BLACKFALDS W. I.

The Blackfalds Women's Institute held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. A. Stevenson, May 2, with 33 present. There are 42 members enrolled for 1925. The president, Mrs. Packler, was in the chair, and the meeting was opened by the singing of "My Old Kentucky Home," and the creed repeated in unison. A demonstration in sewing will be held May 16 to 20. Any lady wishing to join the class is welcome. Mrs. Davidson will be the demonstrator. A plant sale will be held the 16th of May at the Methodist Church. Lunch will be served.

An immigration committee was appointed, consisting of Mrs. J. V. N. Miller, convener, Mrs. Capron and Mrs. Dale. The ground south of the Blackfalds Garage was decided on for the skating rink, and it will be purchased for this purpose.

Mrs. J. V. N. Miller was elected as delegate for the convention to be held at Edmonton, May 26th to 29th. A paper was read by Mrs. Parwell on "Old Times," which was enjoyed very much by the members.

FARMING NOTES

EXPORTS OF MEAT AND CATTLE

In the pre-war year of 1913 our exports of meats reached a total in value of $6,405,705. In 1924 they were $24,434,270. Our exports of bacon in 1913 amounted in value to $1,774,824 and of pork to $200,494. In 1924 the exports of bacon in value were $19,163,636 and of pork $2,169,766. Of live cattle in 1913 we exported $7,538,028 and in 1924, 189,242 head, valued at $12,022,863. It will be noticed that while the number of cattle exported in 1913 was only 10,000 more than in 1924, the value in the last year was $5,286,328 more, showing that in the pre-war year the cattle commanded only a little over $37.38 per head while in 1924 they were worth nearly $68.59 per head. In 1913 the exports of cattle to Britain were 9,878 valued at $704,897. In 1924 they were 19,435 valued at $3,402,378.

(Issued by the Director of Publicity, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.)

Special Committee on Tuberculosis

One of the most important steps yet taken in the study of tuberculosis in this province was announced during the week by Dr. H. M. Torry, Chairman of the Research Council for Canada, in the appointment of a special committee to conduct research work in tuberculosis as it affects cattle.

This announcement will be most gratifying to the people of Alberta, since it forecasts dominion-wide action along the lines on which the Alberta Department of Agriculture and Alberta University authorities have been working for some months. In August, 1924, Hon. Geo. Hoadley, with the support of Dr. Torry, named a research committee for the purpose of studying the matter of tuberculosis in cattle and its transmission to human beings. This committee included prominent medical men of the province and the provincial veterinarian.

This committee has already done considerable work at the provincial institute at Ponoka. Still later, the provincial department secured from France samples of the Calmette culture which has been used with such gratifying success in the inoculation of herds in other parts of the world. This culture is now being developed at the University of Alberta, and experiments are already being conducted with the use of the vaccine, and there have been urgent for some time, with the support of the Alberta Department of Agriculture, that research work along these lines be carried out by the Dominion Government. The announcement of the appointment of the special dominion committee by Dr. Torry, therefore, comes as a welcome news. The committee is under the joint chairmanship of Dr. Torry and Dr. Grisdale, of Ottawa, and includes prominent medical and veterinary men from all provinces, with the provincial veterinarian and Dr. Rankin, of the Alberta College of Medicine, representing this province.

The C. A. Co-Operative Society this week shipped 4 cars of hogs to Calgary and 1 car of cattle to Vancouver. In the country to the west of Red Deer the farmers are hard at work on the land, which looks in excellent condition with plenty of moisture to start the grain.

The C. A. Co-Operative Society is paying 7c for some fat steers this week, a rise on recent prices. They paid this price also for a fat steer bought from Ed. Jacobson at Condon this week. At this rate the best brought its owner $95.40, the highest price given for a steer in Condon in recent years.

The horse market shows a slight tendency to improvement but is not really active. Eggs show a slight drop this week. The Co-Operative price is 23c for extras, 20c for 1st, 15c for 2nds and 13c for cracks, correcting the prices given in their advertisement.

Threshing seems to be finished in the country, but the results have been really good in most cases. J. W. Muncester threshed 439 bushels of No. 2 feed oats out of 15 acres, but the quality was not as good as could have been wished.

The price of hogs shows a tendency to fall this week.

The Edmonton district had three hours heavy rain on Saturday night and rain is also reported from east of Edmonton. This may keep seeding back a little but the moisture is always welcome.

SECOND FORTNIGHTLY CROP REPORT

(Issued by Department of Agriculture, Edmonton, Saturday, May 2, 1925.) The weather over the entire province during the past fortnight has been cool and unsettled with frost at night, and with rather heavy precipitation in many localities. In the southern part of the province, where seeding had become general, this condition has been somewhat with operations, which have only this week been resumed. In the more central and northern districts, where spring plowing had scarcely begun, the rain and cool weather further delayed commencement of work.

Seeding became general in the southern districts about April 20, but was delayed a week by the protracted weather. Operations have now been resumed, and from twenty-five to fifty per cent of the wheat seeding is completed. This applies to the districts south and immediately north of the main line of the C.P.R.

In the more central districts spring plowing had scarcely commenced on April 20, and on account of the heavy condition of the land and the rains of the past ten days, no further operations have been possible until the present week. Seeding will therefore not become general until the first week in May, although a considerable amount of seeding has been done in sections immediately north of Calgary and the C.P.R. line as far as Red Deer. From Red Deer north very little spring plowing has been done, and no seeding to speak of. The present weather will have a marked effect on the land.

In the northern and Peace River districts, spring operations have also been delayed, and seeding will not be general there until about May 7. In all districts the present moisture conditions are excellent, reports from the south-eastern districts being particularly encouraging. In those districts there is more moisture than for years, and good pasture will be available for stock, which has improved wonderfully in condition in the past two weeks. Medicine Hat reports two inches of precipitation; Lethbridge 1.91 inches; Claresholm 1 inch; Glenora, 75 in.; Brooks 12 inches; Youngstown, 12 inches. The south-western district reports winter wheat and rye coming along in good shape, with a little early spring wheat showing above ground. Generally speaking, soil conditions throughout the province are more satisfactory than they have been for some years.

There is a brisk demand for good farm labor, wages paid being from $15 to $20 a month. The provincial labor bureau reports having filled 371 farm vacancies since March 15.

NATURE NOTES

SOME BIRD SONGS

One someone hears it said that there are no singing birds in the West. Some, of course, do not appreciate bird music. I once met a man who tried to get out his gun and shoot a Robin that was carolling in a nearby tree because the "carn bird" wouldn't let him sleep in the morning. That man must have had something on his conscience. I think, and should, perhaps, be pitted rather than blamed. Bird songs are, after all, just one of nature's manifestations which appeal to most of us, and the person who doesn't feel the stirring of the spirit of kinship with the wild things, is missing more than he knows. To one who is not deaf and is willing to listen, the next couple of months will provide ample evidence that there is no dearth of bird songsters in this country.

May and June are the best months for bird music. During this time of the year most of our birds are too busy attending to family cares to give much time to singing.

Some of them, the Robin and Meadowlark, for instance, will give us a fresh burst of music in the fall just before they leave for the sunny south. The fall song though is quite different from the jolly, well-heeled music we hear at this season. Early morning and evening are the best times to hear the birds. They are comparatively quiet during the brightest hours of the day.

We need not do more than mention some of our best-known bird songsters. Pre-eminence of course, in popular affections is the Robin. Next to him, perhaps, is the Chipping Sparrow. You will note that we use the term "Western" as this is the variety found in this province. He is a much finer singer than his eastern relative.

The Wren, too, is a general favorite. Its bubbling, chattering, scolding song pours out from early morn to late eve.

How many of us know the Purple Finch, I wonder. He is one of our best singers and is found in all parts of the province. In the country districts wherever there are clumps of goosefoot, particularly in the early spring, you can hear a pair of field glasses, you will be able to locate him by his bright magenta plumage. If you will see him moving about amongst the catkins eating the tender buds which form the bulk of his food in springtime. The Song Sparrow is one of our commonest birds and well known to most of us. The willows along the creek side are his favorite haunt, but we can find him almost anywhere except in the open fields or thick timber. He will sit on one of the upper twigs close to the sidewalk where we can get a good look at his streaked breast and treat us to his bright, clear, caroling song.

As we pass, he dives into the brush across the road, but before we have gone many steps he is singing again from the same perch or another one close by.

Another one of the same family which spends the summer with us is the White-throated Sparrow.

He is not so fond of town life, but prefers the seclusion of the brush and woods.

All the country children know his clear, flute-like whistle, which is often put into words thus, "Poor old Canada, Canada, Canada," or sometimes "Pride and poverty, poverty, poverty."

Still another sweet singer of the family is the Vesper Sparrow. The Vesper likes the fence lines around the open fields and the top of a fence post is his choice of singing perches.

The Vesper is much like the Song Sparrow, but can always be distinguished by the conspicuous white outside tail feathers when in flight.

Vespers are particularly common in some favored spots. On a summer evening one can sometimes hear a dozen or more, each one repeating his sweet song in turn.

I know of nothing more refreshing to mind and body after a hard day's work than a quiet stroll through the open pasture just after sunset, when the dew is already dampening the grass and the Vespers are pouring forth their evening hymn.

Architectural Effect

Old Farmer Gulteson, of Raspberry Acres, having sold the south forty, took his bride of fifty years before on a trip to Europe.

"Look, Smantany!" he exclaimed, as they gazed upon the leaning tower of Pisa; "the fella musta been drunk when he built that sile."

He Died Happy

Visitor—Oo your poor husband! has passed away, Mrs. Murphy. He died happy, I hope.

Mrs. Murphy—Oh think so, mum. The last thing poor Mike did was to crack me over the head with a medicine bottle.

On Saturday next, to celebrate the Opening of my Gas Station, I will give 1 gallon of gas FREE to anyone buying 5 gallons.

GLENELLEN BUDGET

May 4, 1925.

Notwithstanding the cold weather, everybody seems to be pushing their work. Some report being half through seeding operations.

The Glenellen Sports Committee are very actively engaged in preparing for the annual celebrated sports day. Judging by what your correspondent hears, those who miss it will miss a rare treat.

The committee are staging a shadow concert and dance on June 12.

Mr. Webster is moving to Calgary to make his permanent home there in the future, his place being taken by Mr. and Mrs. Breen and family, late of England. We all extend them a hearty welcome, success and happiness in their new home.

Rumor has it that E. R. Hill has rented the Edwards place for the season.

We are glad to report that Miss Pearl Mitchell is home again after her recent operation for appendicitis at Innisfail.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Gunther and Joe Kopp have rented the place on the Bagley farm, north of the lake.

The young people of the district are rejoicing over the fortnightly dances having again started at Sandy Cove.

SYLVAN LAKE

Mr. S. M. Dunlop and Mrs. Dunlop are leaving town in a few days for Toledo, Ohio. We understand Stan has a fine position to go to at this point. Mr. and Mrs. Dunlop have been deservingly popular with a wide circle of friends at the Lake during their seven months' residence here.

On Friday last, Mr. Dunlop sold his fine Maxwell car to Mr. August Johnson. Mr. Benny Reeves will be auctioneer at the Dunlop home for a sale of high class furniture on Saturday, May 9th. Sale in the afternoon.

The Ladies' Aid of the Memorial Church are holding their regular meeting for the month of May on Thursday of this week at the home of Mrs. Harvey Jamieson. The meeting starts at 3 p.m.

On Friday evening, May 15th, the Pythian Sisters are arranging a real big night of entertainment. Mr. Gaetz, of Red Deer, is billed to address the gathering on the subject of "Leaves of Grass". 12 children from Red Deer are also scheduled to take part in the program. They will be under the direction of Mrs. Backus. The affair will end with a novelty dance.

Mr. Alexander Lohelle, probably the best known old timer at the Lake, who has been quite ill for a few days, is reported to be somewhat improved. Mr. and Mrs. Meyers are being welcomed back by all the citizens.

The Sylvan Lake Band made their initial public appearance on Sunday afternoon and praise was heard on all sides for the progress the new organization has made.

Miss Thelma Graham, of Calgary, has arrived to reside with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Graham, who recently took over the management of the Sylvan Lake Hotel.

The ice on the Lake had all the earmarks of disappearing last week, but here is another week and it is still hanging around. When it finally does go it will carry everybody's blessing.

Mrs. Spicer and Miss Charlotte Spicer have arrived from Castor and will reside at Sylvan Lake for several months. Mrs. Spicer is the mother of Miss Spicer, who for several months has been the efficient teacher of the Junior room at the Sylvan Lake School. Mrs. Spicer has rented one of the McGinnis cottages on the Lake front.

Mr. E. K. Wright, who recently completed his second year in medicine and arts at the University in Edmonton, is again in residence at the Lake and a guest at the Lakeside hotel.

This resort town is taking on its usual summer bustle. The carpenter's hammer is again heard in the land.

Mr. Wilson, the estate boatman, is very busy with the first of three new cottages. Mr. Larka, the carpenter, and Mr. Garfield, the painter, have just concluded their labours at the Sylvan Lake Hotel, which Mr. Graham, the new proprietor, has had completely remodeled and repainted, since its advent as a licensed hotel. Visitors to the Lake will agree with the writer that the transformation of the hostelry worked in the last few weeks is nothing short of marvellous. Mr. McGinnis, who recently became owner of the boathouse business at this point, has an extensive building program under way. Real estate men state that the advance call for cottages for the season was never equalled at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. George Diggins and their five children arrived in Red Deer from England on Monday to settle on a farm in the Joffre district under the Government scheme. They were met on their arrival by Mrs. Trimble, H. Wilson and Commissioner Stephenson and taken at once to the Commercial Cafe for lunch. In the afternoon they left for their new home by motor truck, on which their baggage and supplies were loaded. The children, who have two girls, ranged from 13 to 5 years in age, and looked thoroughly healthy cheery youngsters. They were to be seen after lunch playing on the swings and chutes on the City Square, evidently quite pleased with the look of things in Western Canada. They come from London and will find a great difference in their surroundings here, but they have come at a good time and will no doubt make a success of it in spite of the inevitable difficulties they may meet with at first.

On May 3rd, to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jackson, a daughter.
At Mrs. Wright's Nursing Home, on May 4th, to Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Spiers, Brookside, a daughter.

THE CRY OF THE CAPTIVE IN THE BASEMENT

(An Ode to Beauty)
Gentle ladies, stop and listen,
Turn to me a kindly ear;
Man is born the slave of duty,
Woman rather bows to beauty;
That's the reason I am here.

I am here to banish wrinkles
Wipe away the marks of care,
Neutralize Time's evil finger,
Force the bloom of youth to linger,
Keep you always young and fair.

If you let me bob or shingle
My hair, I'll wave or hang your hair,
All the men will bow before you,
Tell you that they just adore you,
While your vanquished rivals glare.

Pencilled eyebrows look artistic;
Madness smooth the wrinkles out;
Finger nails need manicuring;
None of you need reassuring
That I know what I'm about.

On Gaetz Avenue in 1st, parlour,
When you've found it, simply drop
In and see my scale of prices,
Then I'm sure you'll say how nice is President C. T. Eilne, of the Red Deer Sunburst Club, left Monday for Sunburst to be present when the driller, Wm. Elliot, spuds in the Company's No. 4 well on Tuesday, May 6, offsetting the Sweeney No. 2 producer and the Silverst producer No. 7. This well is the first of four wells that Mr. Elliot has to drill for the Company, and barring any mishaps he should have them all completed by the end of July.

WASKASOO LODGE No. 16.

HOLMES & EDWARDS Super Plate Inlaid

If you should peel back the heavy plating of a Holmes and Edwards Super Plate-Inlaid spoon as in the above illustration, you would see clearly why it is "Solid Silver where it wears."

Holmes & Edwards Super Plate is different. Every piece is heavily plated with pure silver, and, in addition, those pieces most used—tea, dessert, soup and table spoons, breakfast and dinner forks—have Solid Silver Inlaid under the plate at the two rest points to insure permanent satisfaction.
